Note for RNs & LPNs whose permanent address is not in South Dakota: South Dakota is a member of the Nurse Licensure Compact. To view a list of current Compact member states, please see www.ncsbn.org/nlc/index.asp.

If your Primary State of Residence (where you vote, pay taxes, and/or hold a driver's license) is no longer South Dakota, and

- your new Primary State of Residence is another Compact State, you may practice nursing in that Compact State for up to 30 days on your South Dakota nursing license on your "multi-state" practice privilege, while processing your new nursing license in that state; then you must inactivate your South Dakota nursing license.
- your new Primary State of Residence is not another Compact State, you must return your South Dakota nursing license to the South Dakota Board of Nursing to be marked "single-state" and returned to you. You cannot practice nursing in a Non-Compact state on your South Dakota nursing license.

☐ I declare that my Primary State of Residence is _____
